Dear Community Member

It gives me great pleasure and joy in wishing you a Happy Diwali and a prosperous New Year. It is during such festive occasions that we, who are all so well settled in the Illawarra, remember our family and friends back home. Diwali always brings back nostalgic memories and I am sure we all have some specific incidents etched in our heart that we remember during this time.

We are fortunate to have a modest size Indian origin community in the Illawarra which is united and lives in peace and harmony. I am proud to say that we are always willing to help each other during good and bad times. Let us all endeavour to continue to maintain this balance.

IACAII is a not-for-profit association run by volunteers whose aim and ambition is to maintain our unity as a minority community, celebrate our festivals and showcase our rich culture. I am extremely thankful to all those who have made monetary contributions to tonight's function. Without your support, the celebration would not be so grand and entertaining. As always the participants are a very important cog in keeping the wheel rolling. I thank them sincerely.

Thinking of back home, let us spare a thought for brave Jawans who are protecting our friends and family in India against ever threatening enemies. I wish all those Jawans a safe and happy Diwali. Could I also request you all to offer a small prayer for their welfare during your Puja at home.

Jai Hind! Jai Australia!

Launching IACAI Business Forum

IACAI has supported the businesses owned by Indian origin people for a long time to bring healthy growth to our local economy, create resources and employment. IACAI always endeavours to assist our local business community for their growth and enterprise. We believe that there are immense reservoirs of potential that are yet to be tapped in and by our own business communities to mobilise faster growth of more and more businesses owned by Indian origin people in the Illawarra and beyond.

We also felt that there is no active network of our businesses (individuals, small businesses and other businesses) in the Illawarra. With that in mind, IACAI is pleased to launch the IACAI Business Forum today. This Forum is envisaged to become a regular Forum that brings together our businesses to continually assess and adapt measures that promote mutually beneficial commercial activity.

The objectives of this Forum currently include:

- Facilitating stronger partnership between our local businesses and our community
- Promoting a regular and results oriented dialogue
- To help improving the ease of doing business in the Illawarra
- Increasing the number of entrepreneurs in our business community
- Promoting our business, community activities and innovation in the Illawarra
- Providing services and facilities for the benefits of the Forum members
- Representing the interests of our local businesses

Any business owner can become member of the Forum either as an individual or on behalf of a business. For further information, please contact, info@iacagong.org

Diwali – Facts

- Diwali is the biggest festival in the Hindu Calendar and is celebrated not only by Hindus but also Sikhs and Jains all over the world.
- While the religious significance varies, Diwali is celebrated to mark the victory of light over darkness, knowledge over ignorance, good over evil, hope over despair!
- Hindus celebrate Diwali to celebrate Lord Shri Ram's return to Ayodhya with his wife, Sita Mata and his brother, Shri Laxman after 14 years of exile and slaying of Ravan.
- Sikhs celebrate Diwali to mark the Bandi Chhor Divas, when Guru Har Gobind Ji freed himself from Jahangir's prison and arrived at the Golden Temple in Amritsar!
- Jains celebrate Diwali to celebrate Lord Mahavira, the last of the Jain Tirthankar of this era, attaining Nirvana or Moksh on this day at Pavapuri in 527 BCE.
- In West Bengal, Goddess Kali is worshipped and the festival is called Kali Puja!
- In other regions, people celebrate legends about Lord Krishna!
- In South, certain parts of Northern India and Western India, Diwali also marks the start of a new Hindu year!

New IACAI Website

IACAI is pleased to announce the launch of a new website, which is being unveiled today for the first time. This website is now live at www.iacagong.org

Since the launch of the first website few years ago, IACAI website has become the first point of reference for not only the new and potential members of our local community but the current members as well. With our local community growing exponentially, the interest in IACAI and the need to find all general information about the Indian origin community at one place, has become more important than ever.

The new website is designed to highlight the past and future activities of IACAI and community groups. IACAI will endeavour to post updates on the new website as frequently as possible. The events calendar on the website will be the first point of reference for all community events organised by IACAI. There is no doubt that like the previous website, this website will also evolve and change over time to continue to show the reflections of our community.

Please feel free to visit the website as often as you like and make most of IACAI efforts.

The story of Rama and Sita

A good man, called Rama, was married to a beautiful princess, called Sita.

They had been banished to live in the forest with his brother, Lakshman, by his stepmother, as she wanted her son to be King.

Ravana, the Demon king with ten heads, heard of Sita's beauty and goodness and planned to kidnap her. By magic, he conjured up a golden fawn. She asked Rama to capture it.

The demon king disguised himself as an old man and tricked Sita. He kidnapped her and flew away on his chariot back to his island, Lanka.

Rama and Lakshman searched many months for Sita. Finally, they asked Hanuman, king of the monkey army, for help. Hanuman could fly.

He found Sita imprisoned on the island of Lanka. Hanuman, Rama and Lakshman prepared themselves for battle.

This was one of the greatest battles ever seen. The fighting lasted for ten whole days.

It looked as though Ravana was going to win, until Rama borrowed a special bow and arrow from the gods. Rama shot Ravana and the battle was won.

Rama rescued Sita and they decided to go home. As it got dark, the people of the kingdom put out little oil lamps (divas) in their windows to show the way home.

It seemed as though there were more lamps than stars in the sky.

Everyone was happy and Rama and Sita ruled well. Now every year people remember this story at Diwali by lighting diya lights inside their homes and fireworks outside

Be Both Be TIGS

Academic and Articulate

At TIGS you can reach your full academic potential while we give you the skills to be an articulate and confident leader of great character and integrity.

Universities are increasingly looking for outstanding academic results in combination with communication skills, teamwork, critical thinking and leadership.

This is the TIGS advantage that our Alumni stand on to become pioneers in their field, history makers and leaders of great integrity and influence.
